A Memory That I Will Not Forget

Yesterday was an overcast day. Mum and I were shopping in the grocery store. After buying lots of things, we started waiting outside for the green light. We waited for almost a minute and started to be impatient. However, something happened that I would never forget.

After a minute or two, we saw an old lady holding a map not knowing what to do. So, I went near her and asked, "Madame, do you need any help?" She replied worriedly, "Yes, dear, I would like to go to Fun Toy Shop. Could you help me?" I answered her, "Sure madame." I pointed the way to the destination to the lady, but my mum and I felt worried because we missed the chance to cross the road and we may miss the bus. However, we stayed because we needed to help the old lady first.

The old lady listened and looked at the directions I pointed with my finger, "Do you still need more directions, madame?" The old lady responded, "Yes dear, how can I go to the bank?" "Alright! You can walk past Sunny restaurant. Walk along Happy Street. Go across the zebra crossing. The bank is on your left." After that, Mum and I felt happy.

Then, the old lady followed what I showed her and went to the toy shop. I felt cheerful after helping others. All of a sudden, the old lady came back to the bus stop and gave tons of toys to me. My mum was shocked about what happened. I said, "Madame, are you really giving me all these toys?" "Of course, dear! You helped me! These are for you!" the old lady said. I replied, "I'm sorry but I still have lots of toys at home, thank you so much."

I learnt that we should always give a helping hand to people who need help. I will never forget what happened yesterday.
